

PATIENT POLLS

Visiting Other Healthcare Providers for Migraine

Migraine Meanderings hosted a poll that asked, "How often do you visit healthcare providers for your migraine OTHER THAN your usual headache doctor?"

VISITING OTHER HEALTHCARE PROVIDERS FOR MIGRAINE

"It sometimes feels like a full-time job seeing doctors, arranging appointments, and following up."

—Poll Respondent

264 participants voted in this online poll.

HIGHLIGHTS

The answers in this poll show how often respondents seek care for migraine with doctors other than their regular headache doctor, with the majority saying they NEVER see another healthcare provider about migraine.

While more than half of the poll participants never seek care for migraine outside of their regular headache doctor, there is still a significant number who see other doctors fairly regularly – 12% say they see another healthcare provider about 4 times per year!

One participant summed up their experience by saying, "I see a neurologist, a neck and pain specialist, an acupuncturist, and I go to a wellness center that does IV's for migraine. And, my PCP follows my care too."